The Forest friends

In the forest, there were two best friends: Benny the Bear and Tilly the Turtle. Benny was big and strong with brown fur, while Tilly was small and had a green shell.

Benny loved to run fast and climb trees. Tilly, on the other hand, moved slowly and liked to stay close to the ground. Benny liked to eat honey, but Tilly preferred leaves and berries.

Even though Benny and Tilly were very different, they enjoyed spending time together. Benny would help Tilly reach high branches, and Tilly would show Benny the best places to find berries. They learned that being different made their friendship special and fun.
